VOLUME 40—NO. 27

C. W. Boag Addressed Amer. Legion

Auxiliary Attended as Occasion Guests

An enthusiastic and well-attended meeting of the Sierra Madre Post of the American Legion was held in the Dug Out at the City Hall on Wednesday night, March 28th. At this meeting the Post was honored by the presence of the American Legion Auxiliary. Because of the American Legion's respect for past and present co-operation of the Auxiliary this was a significant event.

Commander Harold Roberts, with the assistance of Chaplain P. B. Linville and Acting Sergeant-at-Arms Eddie Peters, conducted a short-form initiation of new members.

Claude Buzzard, First Vice-Commander of the 18th District, installed several officers and members of the Executive Committee. Those installed were: Jack Shearer, Second Vice-Commander, and Ralph Van Vleet, Allan Robertson and Harry C. Humphries, members of the Executive Committee.

Committee reports revealed an unexcelled interest in Post activities. Comrade Everett G. Burkhalter, State Assemblyman, made a short but informative talk on his work in the Legislature relating to Veterans' projects.

Another well-received guest was Francis Eakman, Commander of the local Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. His remarks were brief and to the point, and stressed the importance of co-operation between the American Legion and the V.F.W., particularly with respect to sports and social activities, and the desirability of procuring a building in Sierra Madre for the use of Veterans of all wars and their auxiliaries.

The principal speaker of the evening was Col. C. Wesley Boag, who delivered an inspirational address regarding the value of the American Legion and the responsibility of the younger veterans to themselves, their comrades and their country.

Sylvia Quittner, President of the American Legion Auxiliary, expressed her happiness at the spirit of co-operation between the Post and her organization as shown by the meeting. On behalf of the Auxiliary she presented a large birthday cake to the Post in token of the anniversary of the Legion's inception.

After the meeting was adjourned, hamburgers and coffee and the cake were served by Commander Vint Hoegge and Walter Nollac. Those present joined in singing old songs to the accompaniment of Jack Shearer and Allan Robertson with their musical instruments.

The next regular meeting of the Post will be held on Wednesday, April 3rd, at which time meeting will be in charge of Navy members and should be highly entertaining.

WILL ENFORCE 2-HOUR MAIN STREET PARKING

Two-hour parking signs have been put up in the business district, to enforce the two-hour parking limit passed by the Council recently.

No effort has been made to enforce the ordinance up to this time, owing to the delay in securing the signs. But beware!

CONFERRING OF MASTER MODELER DEGREE A SURPRISE AT SUMAN'S

One of the delightful informal occasions characteristic of the Suman Pottery Shop occurred Thursday when a farewell surprise party was held in honor of Miss Ellen Adair Simpson, who, having reached her 71st birthday, is retiring from her work.

All employees gathered in one of the buildings and presented her with a set of Potteryware fruit cocktail dishes, which she herself had made.

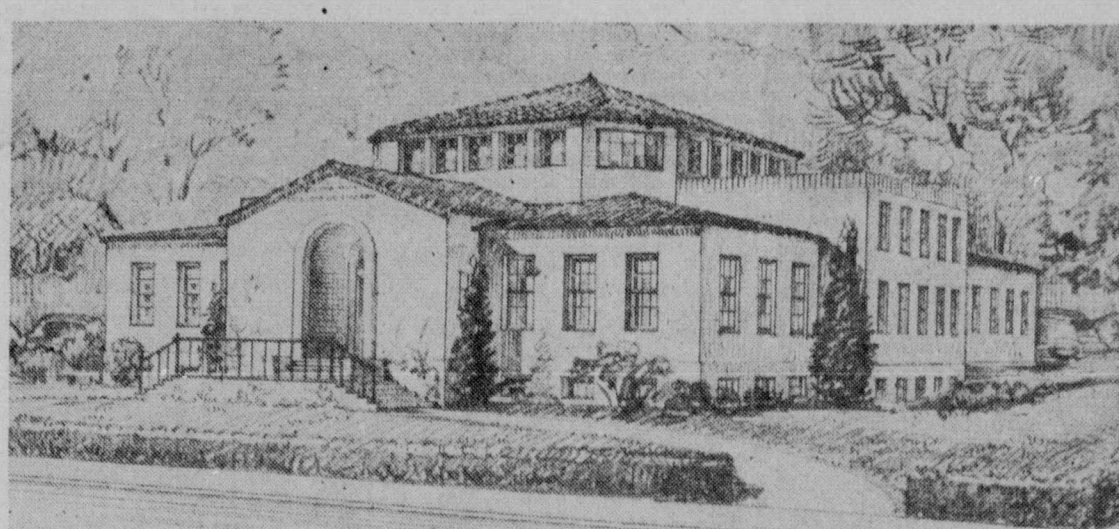

DO WE DESERVE THIS?

The places of business facing the Pacific Electric station on Kersting Court either have to close early after school or grit their teeth and endure the rowdiness which turns the street into a place where business can only be maintained under the most severe hardships. At times the noise is so great from the yelling in the street a telephone conversation is impossible. Names and figures are not distinguishable. If an important transaction is taking place the doors and windows have to be closed.

There are times when it is impossible to wade through the bicycles in front of these places of business. Bicycle riding on this busiest place in the city seems to be the favorite pastime. Only a serious accident will focus attention on the situation.

Unified architecture and brightening up of the business center seems futile until provision is made to have the streets patrolled and business places allowed to maintain operations after 3:30 afternoons.

Really, do we deserve it?

Architect's drawing of the proposed new Sierra Madre public library to be built on the library property opposite the City Park. The building will house the library which has outgrown the present 60-year-old building. The plans were drawn by architect, Fitch Haskell.

Nation Wide Cancer Fund During April

The month of April has been officially designated as Cancer Control Month by act of Congress. The Los Angeles County goal has been set as $400,000. Of the State goal, 60 per cent of the money raised will be retained in California for preventive education and to assist in providing more and better hospital facilities to save thousands from death by cancer.

The battle against cancer, which claimed twice the casualties of World War II during the same years, will be intensified April 1 as Southern California joins in a nation-wide fund drive to raise money to combat the dreadful disease.

LOCAL FAMILY CARING FOR BELGIUM GIRL

Little Marie-Jose Lauwers, eight-years-old, a Belgium child has been adopted by Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Gale of 699 Sturtevant Drive through the Foster Parents Plan.

Parents Plan for War Children. At present the Plan is operating 56 children's projects in England, Italy, Malta, Belgium and France. She is one of 40,000 children who are being helped by the Foster Parents Plan. The case history of the child is typical:

Marie never knew her father. While still but an infant, the Germans had herded him off to a concentration camp. He was never to return.

Born during the German occupation in the seacoast town of Ostend, Marie has known very little happiness. After the father had been taken away, the mother, a housewife, was left to care for the child and provide for her at the same time. But, she found that to be impossible. Rather than to have the child additionally suffer due to neglect, the mother placed Marie in a neighboring home while she went out to work for the support of the baby and herself.

Her courage, industry, artistry and individuality will stand as a beacon light for succeeding generations. In memory of many happy hours together, we hereby subscribe our names:

OUR MEMORIAL LIBRARY

To the Editor of the NEWS:

Surely everyone wants a new library building IF it is needed and IF it does not cost too much. Now that a public spirited family has donated a site, splendidly located, near the center of the city and facing the Park, our desires for a suitable building have been increased.

The Library Board seems to be unanimous that an adequate building is sorely needed. They are the best judges. From the start the new library has been considered as a Memorial to our boys and girls who served in World War II. Our citizens are unanimous that this should be done. We want some place where their names may be recorded, some space where their records may be kept for future generations, and where other historic material may be preserved for the public to consult.

As an educational force in our community the library is needed. Modern pupils are more and more being trained to use reference books in their study as well as text books. These are found in libraries. Adults also are finding it necessary to use wider reading than the two or three papers and magazines that come to a home, if they are to keep up with the times. With a central location, more space, pleasant surroundings, an added incentive is furnished for study.

Now as to costs. I have been surprised to find that the total cost for five years is not more than the average person would subscribe if the amount were to be raised by popular subscription. With the rate at $2672 per hundred the tax would be as follows:

Assessed Valuation	Tax per year	Total for five years
$ 500	$1.34	$ 6.70
1000	2.67	13.35
2500	6.68	33.40

Surely as a needed civic improvement, as a fitting memorial to our sons and daughters and as a suitable tribute to the culture and education of our beautiful city I shall vote YES.

ARTHUR O. PRITCHARD

Financing the New Public Library for Future Users

Sierra Madre is planning a new building for our free public library. This will replace the old home, which has served us since the eighties, but is now too old, too small, and inconvenient for both public and librarians. It is planned to take care of library needs until 1966, the next 20 years at least. It will be a Memorial Library to honor our local service men and women. It will have a large room for exhibits, a room for children's books, and a room for the general public. Its central location at Hermosa and Sierra Madre Blvd. is assured by a generous gift of land. The Library Board has secured an experienced architect to help plan the building and to have charge of construction. Mr. Fitch Haskell has built many important public buildings including the Pintaresca Public Library building in Pasadena. This library has been inspected by the City Council and the Library Board, and it has suggested the board outlines of our own needs.

City Council is taking the lead in financing the new library building. The sum of $10,000 in United States government bonds has been set aside and is accumulating interest. As the city cannot take on a debt, it is necessary to accumulate funds for future use. The special tax over a period of five years arranged by the City Council takes care of this. This is Proposition I.

The tax rate per hundred ($2672) seems to be reasonable. There is no doubt that every tax payer, if solicited, would give at least $20 to $25 cash, and this is just about what the rate of 27 cents per hundred dollars of assessment will amount to. Our average assessment of about $1500 will yield approximately $40 per year.

Why vote money now, when it will not be used for two or three years? Read Proposition I. It is impossible to build at once. Material and labor are not available, hard to get, and very expensive at present. Further, they are needed to house our returned service people and our increasing population, as well as to take care of rapidly expanding production of necessities.

Are there 2000 voters in our town in favor of better library facilities for ourselves and our children? Twenty-five hundred of us are registered library users. We read at home every month from 3500 to 4000 library books. We would like to go to the library building often and sit in a good chair with adequate lighting, so that we could read with comfort and more profit. But this is not possible now.

Vote for Proposition I on Tuesday, April ninth next.

F. L. Whitney, Library Finance Committee.

MUSIC CRITIC FROM THE EAST LOCATES IN CITY

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Matter are now located in the former Milton Steinberger home, 501 Mariposa. They moved from Cleveland, Ohio, where Mr. Matter was the music critic for the "Plain Dealer." They are charming and "Ourville" and Mr. Matter is taking up his musical writing in this area. Already he is conducting a record column in several California papers.

Veterans' Organizations Consider New Building

Local Organization Elects New Officers

The meeting of the V.F.W. Tuesday evening was largely attended and officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

Roy Pickett, Commander. Henry Nuetzel, Sr. Vice-Com. Donald Jackson, Jr. Vice-Com. Norman Jensen, Chaplain. William Brown, Trustee. Marston Blood, Quartermaster. Installation of the new officers will be Tuesday evening, April 9. New members taken into the organization were: Dr. M. H. A. Peterson, James Heasley, Jr., Wilbur G. Evans, George Wetherill, Russell Lovejoy, Jr., Leonard Nault and John Kennedy. There are now 96 active members.

A committee was appointed to confer with the American Legion, the Legion Auxiliary and other Veterans' organizations with a view to the possibility of erecting a building for the use of all, as the membership is rapidly growing now that most of those in service are being released. It was reported that there was a big turnout for practice for the soft ball team Monday evening and another practice session will be held this evening at 7. The boys are planning a dance for the near future.

Bethany Has Parsonage on Montecito

The Missionary Executive Society of Bethany church honored their Minister, the Rev. Stewart R. Sheriff and Mrs. Sheriff, with a house-warming in the new parsonage Friday evening.

The property adjoining the church at the west on Montecito has been purchased to be used by the Rev. at pastor.

A surprise program in charge of Mrs. Marion Edwards was presented. The young married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Sheriff, with a radio program and the Junior League group provided the music. Rev. and Mrs. Sheriff received many gifts from their parishioners, including an orchid for Mrs. Sheriff, whose birthday it was. 170 guests enjoyed the evening. Mrs. Elmer Thompson is president of the Missionary Executive Society and Mrs. John Ferguson, Secretary.

BIRTHDAY TEA FOLLOWS HONOR CEREMONIES

The Woman's club meeting yesterday was the annual birthday observance of the club. Many honor guests, charter members and presidents were present. A memory service honored charter members, Harriet Wright, Emma Kersting and Mary Dickson. Flower presentations were made by Mrs. Oscar Williamsen and Mrs. Elizabeth Turner. A birthday tea followed a very impressive afternoon with many club members and guests on hand.

Friday Night Meeting Reveals Progress in Local Dog Situation

A public meeting of local branch of the California Federation of Children and Animal Protection was held at the City Hall Tuesday evening. It was attended by an interested audience of animal lovers. Mrs. Donald Thayer, President and founder of the Sierra Madre branch, presided and outlined the program proposed.

The speakers of the evening were: Mrs. Saltus of the Bida-we Home in New York City, and Mrs. Hayward, President of the state organization who announced that a prize will be awarded the child who does the most outstanding humane work during the next month in Sierra Madre.

Mr. Thayer, member of the Board of Directors of the local branch, closed the program with an inspiring address on "Spiritual Values in Humane Education." Junior groups of the Sierra Madre Branch have been formed. Membership pledged two cars are patrolling the city, helping to return dogs to their owners. Workers are on the school grounds to return dogs to their homes and many other projects are under way.

Radio-Paint Store Has New Owner

The Sierra Madre Radio and Paint Store, 62 W. Sierra Madre Boulevard, will be under new management next week. Arnold Fedde of the Fedde Furniture Store, 2300 East Colorado, Pasadena, has purchased the business from Thomas E. Borton and will take possession next Tuesday following the inventory which will be taken Monday when the store will be closed.

Mr. Fedde is the type of merchant who will be welcomed in Sierra Madre as he has many successful mercantile years of experience to draw from.

Frank Strandstra, a returned veteran, will be in charge of the store as local manager. He served in the Army, 87th Signal Corps, in Airborne radar service in the Marianas.

Mr. Fedde, who will be at the store part time, says the business will continue as before with the addition of other items as they are available, anticipating to carry unfinished furniture.

Mr. Borton will be very much missed in the business atmosphere of the street for he, with his charming wife, have made friends in all circles. However, we are fortunate to have Mr. and Mrs. Borton continue their residence in Sierra Madre where Mr. Borton deserves a much needed rest.

Sierra Madreans at Whittier Courts Sat.

Durkin, Percy Kortkamp and John Chambers.

Sunday morning the able bodied male residents of the city are invited to be at Water Works Park to assist in the pouring of cement for the Youth Building. If everyone will be on hand at 7:30 a.m. the work can be completed by noon. A great many men are needed.

MISS BARBARA BOWMAN—Pianist, in her program Wednesday afternoon before the Sierra Madre Woman's club, included Mendelssohn, Chopin, Schumann and Schubert-Liszt numbers. Miss Bowman's selections provided an ideal medium for the talent and skill of this versatile young lady, who is a Sierra Madreadan and a pupil of Mrs. George Morgridge. Miss Barbara's technique and tone appreciation are a delight to her listeners and a prediction of a future in the musical field.

CITIZENS DISCUSS PROPOSITIONS ON THE BALLOT AT MASS MEETING

A public mass meeting was held at the school auditorium Monday evening to acquaint the citizens with the provisions of the two propositions that will be on the ballot April 9th, one for the putting on the tax roll the raising of $40,000 over a period of five years for the erection of the library building and the other the adoption of a retirement plan for city employees.

Mayor Thomas Schwartz presided and Dr. R. C. Simpson, President of the Board, Miss Martha Pritchard, Secretary, Miss Laura Moore, Librarian, and Ross T. Hickey, spoke in favor of the library question on behalf of the Board and Robert D. Dodge spoke on behalf of the citizenry, taking his theme from a quotation from Milton, "Great Books are the Lifeblood of Master Spirits." He showed the value of a fine library and stressed the fact that a community is known by its works, its public buildings, its public spirited citizens.

Ralph Krueger, City Clerk of Santa Monica, explained the retirement system, as it works there, very thoroughly and answered many questions. City Clerk Eddie Robertson gave a very complete explanation of the added cost of the two propositions and showed that it is not going to be too expensive for the average tax payer.

The consensus of opinion seemed to be in favor of both questions.

FIRST ANNUAL WISTARIA FETE DANCE DATED

The first annual Wistaria Fete Dance will be launched by the Sierra Madre Woman's club the evening of April 13 at the club house. This social affair honoring the Wistaria Queen will be a Youth Fund Benefit. The chairman in charge is Mrs. J. Emery Diemer.

CITY EMPLOYEES RETIREMENT PLAN

Continuing from last week's NEWS an explanation of the State Employees Retirement System and enumerating reasons why the employees of the City of Sierra Madre should be placed under its provisions, (Proposition No. 2 on the ballot at the Municipal Election, April 9, 1946) some of the advantages to the tax payer which will be reflected in improved City Government are as follows:

In addition to disability and death benefits, it provides for compulsory retirement of City employees other than policemen at the age of 70 years and voluntary retirement after 20 or more years of service at the age 60. Policemen may, after 20 or more years of service, retire at age 55 and it is compulsory that they retire at age 65. This provision has the effect of increasing efficiency by replacing the older employees with those in the lower age bracket.

It also tends to attract to public service persons who would otherwise seek private employment. Efficiency of our city government will thus be increased by elevating the standard of municipal employment and consequently making it possible to select employees from a greater number of applicants.

The smaller municipalities have long been the "training ground" for inexperienced persons who, after they have been a proficient in their particular jobs at the expense of the municipality, accept employment with other governmental units which offer greater advantages. This expensive and inefficient practice can be reduced by the adoption of the Retirement System which gives the efficient employee a sense of security and satisfaction with his job.

When all the advantages, too numerous to completely cover in this article, are considered, we must come to the conclusion that the only argument which may be propounded against the plan is that it will increase our taxes. This is not a sound argument because we cannot expect to "get something for nothing."

The employees, through salary deductions, pay half the cost of future benefits. Through a special tax the City pays for prior service benefits and matches the employees' contributions for future benefits. According to the actuarial survey which has been made and based on present assessed valuations, the cost to the tax payer will be approximately 28 1/2 cents per $100.00 of assessed valuation. Applied to a piece of property assessed at one thousand dollars, it would mean the payment of only $2.85 per year.

See next week's NEWS for the final article of this series before the election.

City Clerk's Office Needs Enlarging

Storage Space for Records is Important

At the Council meeting Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thayer advocated that the public be instructed in the proper care of animals instead of paying $600 a year for a dog catcher. John Porter and Carl Gerke also addressed the Council expressing their approval of the plan for a humane education.

Mayor Schwartz stated that he felt that the safety of our children is worth more than the dogs and that the program of the city together with that of the Humane Society should work out well.

The Purchasing Agent was instructed to purchase the crash truck from the State Pool fire equipment, now in our possession, which was offered for sale at $750.

Webster Vannier was re-appointed to serve on the City Planning Commission, his term having expired March 18, 1946.

A letter was received from Lawrence H. Perry asking that he be granted the right of renewal of his city license to again operate the Pool Hall at 41 N. Baldwin. Referred to the Chief of Police.

The Council accepted the new sub-division of Harold Spears at the S. W. corner of Auburn and Grand View.

The first reading of an ordinance to change the name of Grove Alley to Grove Lane was given.

W. E. Bowers appeared on behalf of the State Pool fire equipment, now in our possession, which was offered for sale at $750.

The Councilmen spent some time looking over the City Clerk's office with a view to modernizing and remodeling it. City Clerk Eddie Robertson told of the need for more space and the necessity for a vault in which to keep the records and for storage space, stating the offices have been outgrown. Heads of departments were requested to submit a plan and an estimate of the cost.

Borglum Painting Gift to Woman's Club Wednesday

Artist's Daughter of Venice, Donor

Art and the work of artists are still of prime importance in Sierra Madre. Yesterday afternoon an oil painting was presented to the Woman's club. As a representative of Mrs. Camillo Cuoco, Mrs. Maybelle Barker presented the canvas which was a large painting of Lamarque roses in a blue vase posing on a dark, antique Spanish table, painted in 1912 by Mrs. Cuoco's mother, Mrs. Gutzon Borglum.

Mr. and Mrs. Gutzon Borglum maintained their home and studio many years on Orange Grove, the property which is now the Gerald Farman estate. POLICE BLOTTER

"Never Miss" Lewis Helps Couple Beat the Stork. Officers Get Many Sick Calls.

A west end dog tearing up gardens. He does it at night and therefore gets a good start before seen. In the northern section of the city, also somewhat to the west end, there is an annoying barking dog. When he sees the cops, he really barks.

Another purse lost. Had some money in it too. A lady who is habitually punctual, aroused a great deal of anxiety when her people missed her at the regular time of arrival. She later arrived safe and sound.

An old car at the rear of Rudy Hartman's store had Rudy bothered. It was found to belong to a local boy, who left it there several days before, because it wouldn't run. A traffic warrant from L. A. police department to pick up and hold some locals. Some boys reported as having broken into a mountain cabin. Officers of the county hiked up to see. Dr. Nelson observed a bike parked at the rear of his office. It had been there two days. The boy owner was notified and the bike returned to him. An auto accident, no one hurt. (Only their feelings). A burglary case is reported to the police. A dog chases his neighbor's ducks. What if the ducks chased the dog? It has been done. The police help with the care of a very sick woman. They ran errands and supplied help. A great Dane "with a loud voice" makes himself heard. His nearest neighbors are really peeved about it. His folks were away. A boy passing by along Orange Grove Avenue was chased and bitten by a dog from the Arcadia side of the street. The boy was riding a bike. A horse tied to a fence was not satisfied with the grass in which he actually was knee deep; he had to reach across the fence and eat the grass. This did not go so well with the man who owned the fence. The horse was immediately moved to another location, with permission. Hiking boys chalking cars as they hike along. What won't they think of? The officers get a move on when an excited lady appears at the station in search of help in obtaining the services of a doctor. The doctor found things better than what the excited lady expected. Old "Never Miss Lewis" (as Fred is called by his cohorts of crime prevention) once more saved the day. A very much upset husband called for the use of a stretch and some help to get his expectant wife to the hospital. Puffing and perspiring as only Fred can do, he, with others, succeeded in getting the lady to the top of "sixty-nine" steps before the stork could catch up with them. Fred is very proud of his accomplishment and is once more bragging about "never miss." This was in the wee hours of the morning. Just 2:15 a.m. to be exact. There is no further report as to just when and if the old bird had arrived or what he might have brought. The humane officers were asked to pick up a group of cats, or is it called a swarm of cats? Several mother cats have many baby kittens and the report received said "THERE ARE MANY MORE ON THE WAY." "Woody" Wilson our curly, blond haired officer found a purse and returned it to its owner. She liked his curly hair for that. Matters seem to run in streaks. This week appears to be urgent calls of help for the sick. Another case similar to those already mentioned. The boys of the night police force are at work all hours of the night. People in trouble know where to call. Until we meet again. Whoo-o-o-o.

St. Patrick's Party at Olive View Given

A committee from the Civic club entertained 32 young ladies of the ward sponsored by the club with a St. Patrick's party Thursday night at Olive View Sanitarium. Symbolic favors were prepared by club members, and a Charley McCarthy take-off was presented with Loren Pratt as the radio announcer; Elizabeth Doty, Charley McCarthy, and Mortimer Snerd, Eleanor Whiting as Vera Vague. Former President Ruth Miles gave two piano numbers and a magician act assisted by Ralph Hutchison and Mrs. Loren Pratt.

Legion to Have Soft Ball League for 18th District

DOG'S ROUND TABLE

Another week has rolled around and the dogs are surviving to their meeting place outdoors to hold their weekly discussion. Black Bomber is presiding and he opens the meeting with a jump and a growl, for he never moved that he didn't do this first, it makes him feel important and then in a deep voice he asks:—What shall we discuss today?

Powder Puff, alias Polka Dot, speaks up in a high pitched voice, "I know, let's all see what we have heard about the new does that our Master has been seeing." Laddie utters a growl and sits up straight and tall as he says "I heard the Master say that they met the little brown dog that used to stay with us, just at the right time, for his Master was taking him to the Police department to have him put out of the way because they were gone all day and the other woman at the house didn't like dogs. But Master put a stop to that and they're going to keep him. Isn't that swell?"

Spunky chimes in "Did you know that they saved about 30 dogs. Saw the owners and got them to buy licenses and keep them in off the streets." Pee Wee excitedly barks "Oh, boy isn't that swell?" Brownie pipes up "I heard the Master say today that none of the dogs he took home have been out on the street since. Maybe if we can reach all the owners and they co-operate the dogs will be saved." Pork Chops with a yip spoke up "I know something better than that. Master said he talked with the 'dog catcher' and he said if they keep this up there won't be any need of the dog catcher coming up at all." Chorus of Dogs, "Wasn't he brave to talk to these men and isn't he swell to be helping all the dogs?" Let's all bark together to show our approval.

Weber Heads Jewish Welfare Fund Drive

Joe S. Weber, prominent businessman residing in Sierra Madre, has again been appointed to head Sierra Madre's participation in the United Jewish Welfare Fund's campaign to raise $5,000,000 in the Los Angeles area, it was announced today by Judge Irvin Stalmaster, chairman of the drive's metropolitan division.

Weber, who also headed the local campaign last year, urged utmost support from non-Jewish as well as Jewish residents of the community.

"The need has never been so great," said Weber. "A million and a half Jewish survivors in Europe look to America for aid after years of the most severe persecution suffered by any people anywhere. The citizens of Sierra Madre have never before failed when asked to help relieve human suffering. This year we ask all persons in the community once again to help make the campaign a success."

The campaign, which opens officially April 30, seeks to raise $5,000,000 toward the United Jewish Appeal's national drive to raise $100,000,000 for refugees, overseas needs and Palestine. Three major agencies of the United Jewish Appeal are the Joint Distribution Committee, for relief of European Jews, the National Refugee Service, to aid refugees in the United States, and the United Palestine Appeal, for settlement in Palestine.

American Veterans Committee Proposes Local Organization

Organization of a Sierra Madre chapter of the American Veterans Committee, progressive veterans group of World War II, was proposed this week by William K. Keith, 381 Mariposa, former Army Technical Sergeant, who served three years in the Army Air Corps. All veterans interested in learning more about the group are invited to contact Keith at his home, telephone CU. 5-4341.

"The American Veterans Committee," Keith said, "was one of the first veterans groups to be born out of World War II. Its membership is limited to allied veterans of World War II, and to members of the Merchant Marine and those newspaper war correspondents who served in overseas theaters of operation. All veterans, regardless of race, or sex, are admitted to membership on an equal basis."

and the sincere interest always displayed. He urged the younger members to continue this loyalty and follow the footsteps of such members as "Shorty" Steinberger had little to say about everything, in spite of "threats" to make much trouble. The trouble he made followed the meeting when he was free from the fires of the Chief. In all sincerity and with regret, the boys will miss Milt from the fire drills, meetings and conventions—but he assures us that he will ever continue to be present at these functions—one and all.

The recent rains have helped a lot in easing our minds about fires getting started. Not only have things dampened to a great extent, but we have been able to burn up a lot of fire hazards before the dry season arrives. It is earnestly urged that those who have piles of dry trees, weeds, papers, old boxes and such about the place, get in touch with the fire department by calling 3222. We will help in getting rid of them by advising about burning. DO NOT BURN large piles of trash and such without first calling the fire department. This is good for all of us.

The meeting received the sad news that we are about to lose Joe Burns from the fire department again. He is anticipating a change that will take him away from Sierra Madre. It is becoming more and more difficult to retain members who are within call distance for the fire department. We are realizing each week just how fortunate our town has been by keeping a working organization together. As men return from the services and get settled, there will be more material to draw from and it is expected that in the near future, men will be available. In the meantime, let's keep the FIRES OUT.

ROBERTS' MARK and Things!

I lingered in the dream-land
Where pools of shadow lay,
And watched in silence and content
A dappled fawn at play.

And lingering, forgotten dreams
Stole softly where I stood;
I touched the silver of their wings
Within that peaceful wood.

—Florence Bakman.

(Florence is one of our better local bards. She has published several books of poetry whose word-pictures are so delicately traced by her inspired hand that I often wonder why we go so far afield for verses of lesser worth.)

HO—HUM!! SPRING FEVER HAS ME in its clutches. I want to do nothing more than to lie in somnolence on a lily pad in MOM'S sheltered pool; but urgent matters claim my attention, darn it! Cliff came over a while ago and reminded me that the dead-line for my weekly blurb draws nigh, and rudely told me to hop to it! Well, MOM and POP will skip out of here before long on their occasional vacation (I hope), and then maybe I shall be able to show MY independence and tell Cliff where to get off! MAYBE! HO—hum-m-m-m!

"HE FASTED FOR FORTY DAYS AND FORTY NIGHTS!" Lant, as you know, continues until noon Saturday, April 20, the day before Easter. For you who observe the Lenten Season, I am told there is an abundance of fresh, canned and frozen fish here in this "big, little store." Also that there are plenty of ranch-fresh eggs now—a good meat substitute.

SEEMS TO ME THIS IS A GOOD TIME to plug MY department as regards Lenten meals. Fresh vegetables are the main dish on many Lenten menus, especially when baked in casserole and seasoned with cheese, a protein food. Cauliflower au gratin; baked mushrooms and rice and tomatoes, topped with cheese; scalloped potatoes, flavored with onions and cheese; all are good entrees at this time. A generous vegetable salad and a rich dessert complete the meal. If more proteins are wanted, serve shelled nuts, of which we have a fine, complete line.

EVEN IF YOU DO NOT OBSERVE LENT, there is most anything else you want, including Grade AA Lamb, Beef and Veal; fresh and frozen eviscerated poultry; home-cooked foods and salads; crackers; shortening (sometimes); mayonnaise (rarely); butter and oleo (expected); Graber's Green Ripe olives; Spanish Onions and Central American Bananas (occasionally); and Shinola, paste and wax, all colors, an item quite necessary to the Spring "dress-up."

A bunch of germs were hitting it up
In the bronchial saloon.
Two bugs on the edge of the larynx
Were jangling a ragtime tune;
While back of the teeth in a solo game
Sat dangerous Dan Kerchoo;
And watching his pulse was the light-o-love,
That lady that's known as Flu.
—Anon.

WHAT A PARODY! APPROPRIATE, THOUGH, EH?

I CANNOT CLOSE WITHOUT REMINDING YOU of your duty to vote on Tuesday, April 9, at the City Election. Candidates and Bond Issues must be carefully considered and conscientiously voted on.

Yours, with a prayer,

SOCIETY

MR. AND MRS. IVY MILLER—She wrote him often . . . mostly about weather . . . when he was a lonely soldier and now they're married.

THERE IS ALWAYS A SILVER LINING OR IS IT ROMANCE?

Living at 556 Brookside Lane are Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Miller. Their marriage is a culmination of a war time romance and they expect to live happily ever after in Sierra Madre.

In the beginning, when Muriel Pedersen, 27, file clerk for Presiding Judge Dudley S. Valentine's Superior Court, decided to correspond with a lonely soldier, her motives were strictly patriotic.

But as of March 19th she was certain that patriotism had become a secondary consideration in her sentiments toward Ivy E. Miller, 26, who is no longer a soldier and who is no longer lonely for the reason that she has become his bride.

While Miller was stationed at Kodiak, Alaska, in May 1942, Miss Pedersen heard about him through a mutual friend and decided he needed some cheering up. For two years they corresponded. Their letters dealt with the weather, their jobs and more of the weather.

Then Miller got a furlough and made it a point to meet her in person. After that he was sent to the European theater and the correspondence continued. Only now the weather was hardly ever mentioned. At the end of last year Miller was discharged, returned to Los Angeles and got a railroad job. Then he proposed.

BODINE-TARR MARRIAGE FRI. AT CONCORD

In a quiet ceremony performed March 21st at the First Christian church in Concord, California, Miss Muriel Helen Tarr and Major Lester Day Bodine, of the Army Air Corps, were united in marriage by Chaplain J. Acie Burgess, a long time friend of the groom. The brides were witnessed by Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Winslow Tarr, parents of the bride, Robert M. Tarr, brother of the bride, and State Assemblyman and Mrs. R. Fred Price, of Upland, uncle and aunt of the groom.

Major and Mrs. Bodine are well known in the community, having attended the local school and were graduated from Pasadena High school. They are members of the First Congregational church of this city. Major Bodine is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Bodine, local residents for over 35 years. He has recently returned from a tour of duty, over 40 months in the South Pacific, during which time he served on the General Staff of the Commanding General of the Seventh Air Force in Hawaii, Saipan and Okinawa.

The couple will make their home at Mineral, California, where the groom will be employed at the end of his terminal leave, in Lassen Volcanic National Park.

College Friends Guests at Bridal Shower Saturday

One of the pre-nuptial parties given for Mrs. Jesse Rhodes, the former Virginia Embree, was a shower at the home of Miss Kathryn Dowding, 514 Ramona, Saturday evening. Miss Dorothy Smith was co-hostess and the guests were Pasadena Junior College friends of the bride-elect.

The guests presented the honoree with a large pink and white wedding cake, which concealed many lovely gifts. Those enjoying the party were: Misses Joan Thomas, LaVonne Bobbit, Helen Askew, Betty Mischler, Joyce Fergus, Barbara Hibert, Gloria Foster, Rowena Shinway, Elizabeth Wallace, Joyce Godley, Leila Pickett, Carol Lang, Wilma Smith and Lillian Dowding. Mesdames Arthur Embree, H. Embree, P. Adams and M. C. Lambie of Moose Jaw, Canada.

EPISCOPAL LUNCHEON

A delightful luncheon was given Friday at the Parish Hall by Mrs. H. E. Gill, Mrs. M. A. Riney, Mrs. Cecil Slater and Mrs. Alice Sedgman to the Women's Auxiliary of the Episcopal church, in aid of the reconstruction fund of the American Episcopal churches for war torn countries. Rev. Harley Smith, Rector, presided and introduced the speaker, Mrs. Reifsnider, wife of Bishop Reifsnider, who gave a very informative talk on her work in the Orient.

Assisting the hostesses were: Miss Daisy Hawks, President of the Women's Auxiliary, Mrs. A. C. Davis and Miss Phyllis Rigney.

The beautiful floral arrangement of the tables with spring flowers was done by Miss Rigney.

Wed Saturday at Uplands

Herbert W. Beaver, Jr., son of Mrs. Elmer A. Tambert, 289 E. Grand View, was married Saturday night to Miss Margaret M. Penzel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Linus Penzel of Missouri at Upland, Calif. The Rev. Hughes of the First Methodist church performed the ceremony. Only members of the respective families were present. Mrs. Beaver served as an Army lieutenant in the Nursing Corps at Fort Rosen, San Diego, and Birmingham Hospital, Van Nuys. Mr. Beaver met his future wife while serving in the Medical Corps at Fort Rosen.

Married Tuesday Eve Couple Leave for New Alabama Home

The wedding of Helen Virginia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram S. Embree, and Jesse A. Rhodes of Cullman, Alabama, was solemnized in the chapel of the Congregational church Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. Dr. A. O. BLOSSOM TIME ARRIVES IN WASHINGTON . . . While many parts of the nation were still covered with snow, blossom time came to Washington. For years one of the show features of the national capital has been the blanket of blossoms from the thousands of trees on government grounds.

Baseball Team is Organized

A group of young men of Sierra Madre, who have been anxious to organize a baseball club met with Jim Heasley at the City Park Friday, March 23rd. Those present were Bill Clouch, Sherman Clouch, Paul Gonzales, John Grijalva, Virgil Fransen and Dick Lambert. The object is to promote a hard baseball club. Other young men are interested and practice will begin immediately. Infield drills are held regularly at the school grounds and for batting practice the team will go either to Arcadia County Park or Brookside Park. No field in Sierra Madre is large enough for hard baseball at present. Games away from home are expected to be played. Officers were elected, Bill Clouch being selected President and temporary Captain and Jerry McKeown, Secretary. Regular meetings will be held each Tuesday evening at seven o'clock. All young men who are interested in hard baseball are invited to attend. The present meeting place is at the fire station under the supervision of Jim Heasley.

MARCH MEETING REVEALS ASSETS DOUBLED

The assets of the Greater Arcadia Building-Loan Association exceeded the $1,500,000 mark, it was revealed by the Board of Directors at their March meeting. This is the first time that the totals of the association have been past 1½ millions.

The association has more than doubled in total assets since its published statement of March 31, 1945 when the totals were just greater than $722,000. The growth has been very steady during the past year and reflects the increase in business in the Arcadia area.

The association was organized in 1927, and there has been little change in the directorship since. The present directors are Gordon S. Eberly, Frank R. Schroeder, Fred E. Sockman, J. E. Roether, and G. H. Avers. All of these men have had years of experience in the real estate loan field.

The active management is under the direction of G. H. Avers, Secretary Treasurer, who is assisted by Elmer G. Geronsin, Assistant Secretary.

One of the workers on the new building for the Hawks Co. fell from a girder of the roof yesterday morning and suffered a compound fracture of his leg. He was taken to St. Luke's hospital. The other workers laid off for the balance of the day as is customary, as such an accident has a tendency to make them jittery when on girder work.

Work on the new Hawks building started Monday and the framework was all up by two o'clock that day. The balance of the steel work will be completed by Monday, it is expected, and the work of moving the machinery out of the former Pool Hall on Baldwin will be done within a few days.

To the Voters of Sierra Madre

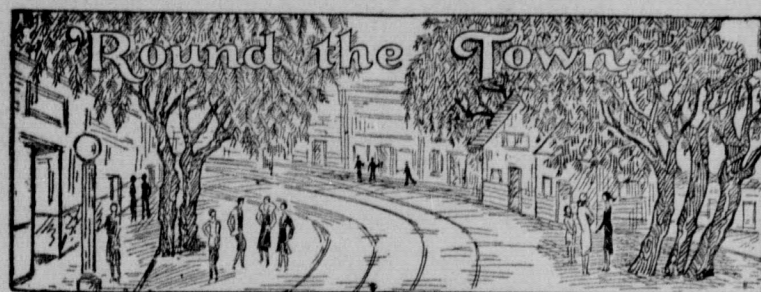

I wish to express my appreciation for your confidence during my term of office as Councilman.

As a candidate for reelection to the City Council, I trust my record of service these past four years will warrant your continued support.

During my entire term of office I have been Chairman of the Water Department. It is, and it always has been, my desire to develop all available, natural water resources so that Sierra Madre will have an ample supply of water at all times. The future growth of our City will draw more and more upon our limited well supply.

Having in mind the possibilities of furnishing additional water for the proposed annexation of the available portion of the Hastings Ranch, I moved, in regular meeting, that the City retain a competent Consulting Engineer to survey the water situation of Sierra Madre as to the available, potential and future supply. This motion was unanimously approved by the Council.

Vinton A. Hoegge, Incumbent.

Resources of 65 community owned banks in Southern California increased $188,335,041 in 1945, according to a survey prepared by the Independent Bankers Association of Southern California and made public yesterday by H. C. Lewis, President of the Sierra Madre Savings Bank.

Tuesday luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Dowling at their home, 514 Ramona, were Mrs. John Denholm and Mrs. Harry Songboham. Later in the day Mr. and Mrs. Dowling and their guests visited the Wistaria Vine.

Mr. and Mrs. John Senour, Sierra Madre, and Miss Avis May, Alhambra, were week-end guests of Ira Smith, South Pasadena, on a trip to Catalina on his cabin cruiser.

The Dickens Fellowship will meet Thursday, April 4th, at the home of Mrs. Alice Sedgman, 34 N. Hermosa Avenue. Miss Thomasella Graham and Mrs. Sedgman will be co-hostesses.

Sgt. Leo J. Schultz, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Schultz, 65 W. Montecito, was home last week on a three day pass from Birmingham hospital where he is stationed.

Mrs. Harry Owen, 106 S. Hermosa, entertained Mrs. Louis Vanderhook, South Pasadena, at the Wistaria Vine Tuesday. Mrs. Owen will have as week-end guests Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Junior, Lakewood Village, and Mrs. Oda Dart, Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Maurer and son, Gordon, formerly of Baldwin Park, have moved to the home at 175 Mountain Trail, which they recently purchased of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Whitaker.

Mac, 1/c Jack Cowan is at his home, 137 E. Sierra Madre Boulevard, from the Pacific area. He has been in the Navy for 18 years.

Mrs. Edith M. Pictor of Los Angeles is visiting her sister, Miss Hilda Humphries, N. Sunnyside.

Pvt. George Robert Tolle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tolle, 539 E. Grand View, is recovering from an attack of pneumonia in Regional hospital, Ft. McClellan, Alabama. He was inducted at Ft. MacArthur February 15 and 10 days later was taken ill. He will remain there another month but hopes to secure leave to come home and recuperate.

Miss Raeburn Tease, 297 W. Highland, is visiting friends in Long Beach this week.

The Sellers family of 196 W. Montecito Avenue are returning soon to Chicago, where they lived before coming to Sierra Madre.

Mrs. Henry Coit, Jr., 270 Grove St. is convalescing at her home after a period of hospitalization.

MARCH DAY PLAN

Curtains come down! Run coming up! Dist. coming out! Are those signals for Dad to get a bite down town and for Junior to go to the drug store for a malt?

Really now is it so much trouble to ston something, long enough to bring forth the balanced meal they need? You've spent days listing and scheduling the housecleaning tasks to be done but if that schedule doesn't include meals it's a clear case of "housecleaning" in a general sense. A simple oven meal can be planned into the house day just as easily as changing the papers in the bureau drawers. Prepare a menu and don't forget that after breakfast there is the refrigerator for them into the oven at the right time then on back to your polishing till time to eat. (This your work will go faster and easier if you eat right too!)

BAKED STUFFED FISH

2 lbs. fish (halibut, salmon or haddock)
3 C. soft bread crumbs
1 Tbsp. finely minced onion
1/2 Tbsp. minced pickle
3 Tbsp. butter
1 Tbsp. minced parsley
1 tsp. each salt, pepper, cayenne, sage
Have fish split and the backbone removed. Sprinkle inside of fish with salt and celery salt. Combine remaining ingredients and stuff fish with stuffing. Wrap in strip of cheesecloth to hold fish together. Place on a rack on uncovered baking tin. Bake at 350° for 1 1/2 hours. Serves 6.

ASPARAGUS AU GRATIN

2 Tbsp. butter or fat
4 Tbsp. flour
2 C. milk
1/2 tsp. dry mustard
Dash cayenne
Dash paprika
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1 lb. frozen or raw fresh asparagus, chopped
1/4 C. fine dry bread crumbs
1/4 C. grated cheese
Make white sauce of fat, flour, milk and seasonings. Place half the asparagus in a greased baking dish, pour on half the sauce and half the cheese. Add remaining asparagus, cover with sauce and top with butter and sprinkle top with paprika. Bake at 350° for 45 minutes. Make one dish size 9x4x3 inches. Serves 6. Broccoli may be used instead of asparagus.

REGISTER TO VOTE

With office seekers galore rushing to meet the deadline for filing their candidacies this month, it might be well to remind voters that they, too, have a deadline to meet. If they have changed their address or name, or did not vote in the last direct primaries or general election, they must register on or before April 25 to vote in the June 4 primaries.

During the past week the press has been filled with accounts of the presidential election in Argentina where the question of democracy versus fascism hung in the balance. There, voting is compulsory, which has much to recommend it. But we, as Americans, object to being compelled to vote, hence such a law would be vastly unpopular here.

Recently one of our armed services released through theatres, a film which carried a GI through war-torn Europe where he saw for himself the value of a freedom which had always belonged to him and his forefathers, but which he had not taken seriously until he saw others deprived of it. The lesson conveyed by that picture should be taken to heart by every American, particularly in these days when the average citizen's only voice in government is the ballot he is privileged to wield.

He can only exercise that privilege by registering to vote by April 25. Therefore registering becomes as much an obligation and a duty as does voting itself. Registrars of voters throughout California make it possible for everyone to register with the least inconvenience to themselves.

We urge you, therefore, as a good American citizen, to register at once, regardless of your party preference. Registering does not obligate you to vote the way you register. In the privacy of the poll at the general election in November you can voice the convictions that have crystallized between now and then. But the privacy of the poll is not yours unless you have registered. So do it now!

ROYAL THIEVERY

The Federal government is suing the state of California to gain possession of her oil tidelands. Recently the state of Louisiana came to the defense of California, for the reason that Louisiana has the foresight to realize that her own oil tidelands on the gulf are at stake if California loses the fight with the Federal government.

It is shortsighted for the various states to not be interested in each other's problems when one is under attack, because each Federal encroachment on a state's rights sets a precedent to be extended to all states. So far Louisiana is the only state to make a stand with California to perpetuate ownership of her tidelands, mainly because few states possess such wealth under their tide waters—but they may have other wealth that a verdict against California could be stretched to cover.

If the Federal government can successfully attack states to secure lands or minerals it may covet, and there is no concerted opposition, individual states may eventually find themselves in possession of nothing but jack rabbits, slag, and beach combings.

"I DO NOT CHOOSE—?"

In spite of denials by Democratic party chairman Robert Hannegan that President Truman has already made a private "I-do-not-choose-to-run" statement regarding the 1948 election, rumors persist that the Chief Executive wants to step down when this term is finished. According to reports, Mr. Truman tells many friends and visitors that he did not want to be President and that he finds the job too trying and burdensome. He longs for the comparatively carefree life he enjoyed as senator and Vice-President. Hannegan's denial of the President's desire to quit in 1948 was to be expected since a silence on the rumor or an affirmation of it would further weaken Mr. Truman's control of the Democratic Party. It still remains to be seen if Mr. Truman will actually emulate Calvin Coolidge.

LOOK OUT, DETROIT

It seems that Henry Kaiser is not the only Westerner whose prospects in the automobile field are promising.

The manufacturers of a new four-cylinder car which is being manufactured in California already have more than $50 million worth of orders. And $50 million isn't small change even in the automobile business.

This car is expected to sell at a price range of $500 to $600. The company has facilities to turn out 200,000 of them annually once production really gets rolling.

Production on so large a scale, if realized, together with the establishment of new or additional facilities for automobile building by some of the large producers should go far toward giving California a place in the automotive sun.

It seems only right that California should have such a place. Our State is a "natural" when it comes to automotive transportation. Californians own in excess of half a million more cars than the several more million people in New York State.

California is already the Number One State as a car and truck user. Eventually it may be Number One as a car and truck producer.

NO U. S. LOAN FOR RUSSIA

If money talks, six billions of "capitalistic" American dollars have sent a loud "No!" ringing through the halls of the Kremlin. There is no other interpretation to be given President Truman's statement, in his message to Congress endorsing the British loan request, that the total of foreign loans should be limited to seven billion dollars.

Simple arithmetic squeezes out Russia. She wants six billions from us. The British loan, nearly four billion, subtracted from a limit of seven billions, leaves hardly more than half of what Russia wants—and probably loans to other stricken peoples certainly will use up all that Mr. Truman thinks the U. S. should lend around the world.

It is difficult to see how the President could have done otherwise regarding Soviet Russia. Russia was, frightfully ravaged by her Nazi invaders, and is in for costly rehabilitation. But she is using her own financial resources to maintain a vast force in Manchuria, to fasten a grip of tyranny on Iran, and to play the aggressor through power politics in every neighbor country she borders upon.

It would be the height of folly for the American people to add their own heavy tax burden in order to help Stalin build the Red Army to still mightier power! It is in large part because of that power, and the imperialism it supports, that America must spend billions to keep her own military establishment strong.

Even aside from those good and sufficient reasons, the American people could not afford to finance Russian aggrandizement, even if they were stupid enough to do so. No other Nation on earth is saddled with a public debt remotely approaching ours in size.

Only fellow travelers will disapprove that "No!" to Uncle Joe.

Civil War Veteran
Climbs Mt. Wilson

A remarkable feat of mountain climbing was accomplished by J. H. Armstrong, 77-year-old Civil War Veteran of this city. Accompanied by his daughter he left the foot of Mt. Wilson trail at 7:15 and arrived at the peak at 12:15.

B. A. Baumgardt gave a talk on "Norway" at the Women's club.

L. L. Clark and E. E. Camp will not be candidates for re-election as school trustees for this district. F. C. Lehmer has been named inspector of polls and J. W. Hanselman and A. L. Caskey, judges.

Rear Admiral and Mrs. Sebree spent the day in Sierra Madre as guests of their cousins, Charles and Howard Sebree.

Fine stock of eucalyptus trees, $1.50 per hundred.

George Humphries is at a Pasadena hospital for a surgical operation.

After many delays, the pictorial album of Sierra Madre, which the board of trade decided last fall to publish, has been completed and is in the hands of President Keys and Secretary Bridge.

At the Council meeting last night it was decided that a determined effort should be made to have the supervisors repair Baldwin and Sierra Madre Avenues from the city limits to the county road. There is still an unexpended $700 held by the county supervisors for road purposes since Sierra Madre was incorporated which could be used for improving at least one of the above roadways, the Council decided.

John Thomas Davis died at his home on Grandin Avenue after a lingering illness.

Seven Year Fight for Canyon Paving Ended

A trip through the wild flower section of San Joaquin Valley was enjoyed by many Sierra Madrenes last week, including Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Copenhaver, Mrs. Betty Glenn and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Doolittle.

Sierra Madre's new traffic ordinance became effective yesterday. Before it was adopted the measure was amended by striking out all restrictions and limitations on parking in the business area, except in front of the city hall or post office for more than 15 minutes.

A letter from Henry E. Isaacs fixing a price on the lot owned by him adjoining the municipal swimming pool was read at the last meeting of the city council. It was referred to the finance committee for recommendation.

Elizabeth Morgridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Morgridge, 19 W. Orange Grove, was winner of a $10 prize at Woodrow Wilson Junior High for the best essay on "Safe Driving," in a contest sponsored by the American Legion.

A suggested new route for the proposed Santa Anita mountain highway through the Lannan estate is being surveyed by engineers of the Los Angeles County Road department. The Lannan estate has refused to give right of way through the property as originally desired by the county and condemnation proceedings may have to be resorted to unless a deadlock between the land owners and the county can be broken. It is hoped that a way through the property can be found that will be agreeable to the owners.

In response to action by the Chamber of Commerce, American Legion and the Kiwanis club the athletic field at the new public school is to become a community playground, illuminated for night sports and open under restrictions to the public.

Opposition to the proposed paving of streets and roads in Canyon Park had dwindled to zero when the Council met to hear protests against the undertaking as proposed by the Council.

The letting of the contract and the beginning of work will end a seven years' campaign for good roads in the canyon area. Mrs. Hannah Mylott, Woodland Drive, filed a written protest against the destruction of six old live oak trees on her property and was assured that every effort to save them would be made in paving the street.

The long winning streak of the Sierra Madre's Merchant basketball team was broken when they were defeated by the Block Store team of Monrovia, 50-20.

Malcolm W. Lyon and his wife, the former Titania Lovvna, daughter of Ataman Lev Niketa Pavlichenko of the Ussuri Cosacks, have arrived for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Lyon.

Frank B. Seeley celebrated his 92nd birthday.

"No Miracle" from the pen of James L. Hill, Sierra Madre, is in the current Sport Story magazine.

The Bethany choir will sing over radio station KTBI Monday evening. Rev. W. D. Ogg, pastor, will talk over the same station earlier in the day.

H. B. Richardson has secured a building permit for an addition to his home, 314 West Central Avenue. A five room home to cost $3000 will be erected by E. R. Grinnel at 86 E. Highland.

V. E. Cowell, 451 W. Central Avenue will build a two story addition to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hawks will appear in the prologue of "No More Frontier" at the Pasadena Community Playhouse.

Elia Shepard Bush, Sierra Madre's noted miniature painter, will open her studio to the townspeople and Wistaria Fete visitors tomorrow.

A large card party will be held at St. Rita's auditorium. Hostesses will be Mrs. Carl Graf, Mrs. Ralph Solary and Mrs. William D. Richards.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Thomson are receiving congratulations on the birth of a 10 pound baby girl.

An Easter party planned by Mrs. Mary S. Wheeler, teacher, and Mrs. F. A. Pagenkopf, room mother of P. T. A., was given the children of 6A grade of the Sierra Madre grammar school.

The Windsor club of the College of Music at U.S.C. held an open house at the home of its founder, Leland S. Auer, 181 E. Grand View.

AROUND AND ABOUT

By EDWARD LLOYD VOORHEES

ENGLAND, WEST—Bristol. From Chester, my next move was—considering the size of England—a long one, about 125 miles due south to Bristol. I had been invited to stop over and see that city with my table companion of our Atlantic voyage, a native of Bristol, who was visiting his mother while on furlough from a British oil refinery near Vancouver. In doing this I passed up quite deliberately the great commercial and industrial cities of Liverpool, Manchester, and Birmingham, for my mind was restricted and my interest and tastes on that first trip were almost exclusively for the historical, literary, and architectural elements of the British Isles.

Legion and the Kiwanis club the athletic field at the new public school is to become a community playground, illuminated for night sports and open under restrictions to the public. river Severn, which in turn, also flows into Bristol Channel from the northeast, as does the beautiful river Wye from the north. These rivers, like others in Europe are bound up with the history, legend, song, and literature of more than a thousand years of continuous and colorful civilization—which is, of course, what induces us denizens of the "up-to-date" New World to travel so far to observe it and to sample its flavor, like that of some rare and unique old wine. And more and more one suspects that the world's past is the master-key to its present.

Arriving at Bristol—a quaint and romantic-appearing city in spite of its hustle, bustle, and roar as one of England's chief ports—I soon found my hospitable friend Marchant Boyden, who was waiting to launch us upon a day of sightseeing and sociability. For he had known Bristol from his earliest recollections of childhood. We saw it the best way—walking about, with no roofs, windows or other obstacles between us and the sky, pierced by so many steeples of Bristol's churches and colleges. Thanks to the building competition of Bristol's early baronial families, and rich merchants like the Canynges, Shipwards and Framptons, there was at the time of my visit, and until the German blitzkrieg of the 1940's reduced so much of the city to rubble, a great central group of magnificent public and ecclesiastical buildings. Among several which we visited that day was the great Cathedral, which grew out of the 12th century. St. Augustine's Abbey and which still contained some reputedly 13th century glass in its altar window, to the left of which we saw the window of rich Flemish glass given by Mistress Nell Gwyn as a thank offering for her recovery from illness. The great Bishop Butler's monument was still there, the canopied tombs of barons on which were stretched out their sculptured likenesses in chain mail, the tomb of Laurence Sterne's Eliza and many another covering illustrious dead resting peacefully—until the bombs should fall.

Bristol was also interesting to me as the birthplace of two illustrious English poets of the Romantic Period—Thomas Chatterton and Robert Southey. Chatterton, the "marvelous boy" as Wordsworth called him, who died by his own hand before his years

A five-mile tunnel under the Bristol Channel takes the trains to Bristol, a short distance up the Avon River. To keep one's geography of England right-side up, one must remember that this Avon is but one of three distinctly separate rivers Avon in that well-watered country! Besides this Lower or Bristol Avon, 75 miles in length, there is the East or Hampshire Avon, about 90 miles in length, and the Upper or Warwickshire ("Shakespeare's Avon"), which meanders about 100 miles to join the storied that statue than of the church or it was Queen Elizabeth who said of this church of St. Mary Rad-

 it was in this church that young Chatterton pretended to have earlier by one Rowley, a priest—but in reality all fabricated, including "Rowley," by young Chatterton himself.

We ask your help in bringing the substance of this law and the penalty for its violation before the public with an appeal for its strict observance.

Help keep the highways and not make for Marie's life to be a healthy one. The little that the mother managed to provide toward the upkeep of the child was hardly sufficient to give her the essentials of a sturdy diet. Constantly away from the baby, the mother was unable to give the tender attention so typical of a mother. The little girl grew, devoid of any semblance of paternal care.

The strain proved too much for the mother and her health began to suffer. Her visits to the child became less frequent as she was physically tired in her struggle to keep both body and baby alive.

Liberation day brought no respite for the mother. The anxiety of awaiting word about her husband was relieved when she learned that he had died in a camp in Germany. Plan representatives were informed of the plight of the mother and child and aid was immediately forthcoming.

Today, through the generosity of a Foster Parent, little Marie is to be given an opportunity to grow into a mentally alert and physically strong young lady. Still a sickly child, the aid to be provided for the baby will make secure her safekeeping for the future years. The sweetness inherent in her face will develop and grow thanks to her "parent" in the United States.

100 Years Old She Lives to Cross
Rockies by Plane

A frail little woman who has never weighed over a hundred pounds recalls frontier experiences she lived through that should put us to shame when we find ourselves complaining about present day luxury shortages. She is Mrs. Mattie Roberts, a former Sierra Madre resident, who celebrated her 100 birthday March 19 with her faculties keen and a zest for living that belies her years.

Born in Kentucky in 1846 she crossed the Rockies on horseback in 1874 with her two-year-old son in her arms. With her husband she settled on a ranch in Animas Valley, Colorado, where she and her daughter, the present Mrs. W. A. Vanice, was born. At the time of her arrival in the valley the entire population consisted of two women and 14 men. Mrs. Roberts recalls that there was an Indian reservation 15 miles from her ranch and that raids occasionally were threatened. At such times the women would lock themselves and their children in their houses and the men would stand guard outside with shot guns. But the raids never developed. Mrs. Roberts recalls the counsel of the more friendly Indians prevailing over the more hot-headed ones. For the most part the Indians were friendly and courteous in their dealings with the white settlers and with a twinkle in her bright eyes Mrs. Roberts told of one Indian who ate five breakfasts in a row at the homes of white settlers, fearing he might insult them if he refused their offer of hospitality.

Mr. Roberts took up a mining claim on the eastern slope of the Rockies and it was while returning from a trip to his claim in 1879 that he lost his life in a snow-storm. Because of a lack of transportation facilities Mrs. Roberts never saw her husband again, his remains being shipped direct to Kentucky. A few years later Mrs. Roberts sold her ranch and returned to Kentucky but, after seven years came back to Colorado and bought a stock ranch near Durango. She came to California in 1923 and while in Sierra Madre lived on Grove Street and, later, Montecito. Mrs. Roberts, who now lives with her daughter in Arcadia, often comes to Sierra Madre where she has retained her membership in Bethany church.

Having crossed the Rockies on foot, by horseback, in a wagon, an automobile and by train, Mrs. Roberts, with her still youthful spirit, hopes she will yet complete her record and some day fly over the Great Divide.

SURF FISHING

All in all the surf fishing has been pretty slow up and down the coast lately, although a few salt water perch are being taken and an occasional yellowfin croaker. Clams were getting the best results this week.

On the pier, smelt and a few rock cod are being brought in. Reports of large shovel nosed and oil sharks being caught in the surf have come from San Clemente and Doheny Park Beach. Yellowfin and spotfin croaker are expected to start their heavy runs very soon now and cobina will come into full swing sometime this month.

Lower Otay—Fresh water fishing is still holding up at Lower Otay Reservoir, with anglers taking a fair number of bass, plenty of bluegill and a few catfish.

Havasu—Bass fishing is getting better at Lake Havasu, they've begun hitting surface lures for the first time this winter. Deep water plugs with scale finish in darker shades are still getting limits.
